

We Are Benedictine

Ms. Barbara Shannon, Benedictine High School art teacher, is pleased to announce that two of her art students received Gold Keys at the Regional Scholastic Art Competition held in December. Simon Cvijanovic '10 and Ben Hess '09 both received gold keys for their entries into the drawing category. The students' works were on display at the Cleveland Institute of Art on Sunday, January 13, 2008 where a total of 74 Gold Keys were presented to the winners of the competition. The Regional Scholastic Art competition is open to students in grades 7-12. The Gold Key is the highest award a student may receive in this competition.

The students' art work will be sent to the competition in New York for the national scholastic competition. Congratulations to Simon and Ben and good luck on the national level.
